

Dear Pastor, Dean and Administrator,

Funding for Calvary University

One year ago we announced the purchasing of ground for Calvary University in order to establish this institution on the African Soil. It was a nail-biting experience to witness the various moves the facilitators had to go through to finalise everything. This has now come to a conclusion and we are told that this week the local planning is to begin. Throughout this year various people asked us about the progress on the details we shared. The answer is simple: Once the little detail of the financing is established and completed, all the other things can only then commence.

Now is then.

We here at CLT have just had to hold our breath like everyone else but we have made some progress on helping with detail planning for the structuring of the learning system, the planning of the different levels of the schools/colleges/campuses and their approximate location (that is in which town, not at which address).

So all the possible questions about what, where and when are premature. Accreditation is one of those things which will fall into place as we make progress. We do not only have current students in mind, we have the whole of Africa and scores of centres on all levels in 44 countries in mind. Please do not worry now about accreditation. As we always say — Recognition of Prior Learning is entrenched in the law and THAT protects us all now. Anybody NOT applying RPL can find their refusal tested by a court of law. That is not our main concern, but things will change drastically soon.

Calvary Academics Platform

This name, which has been linked to publishing material and e-learning technology will be used for the non-University level programmes and for publishing as well as an e-learning platform. This means that the e-learning initiatives for the local future school curriculum deliverance will be run under this banner. We will also see skills qualifications being issued under this name such as for the skills professions.

The platform is still under development and we will soon see a demonstration. It will be very advanced as compared to what the universities and colleges are now using.

New Material in Development

As discipleship training is so important to our Great Commission calling, we are developing 3 “Calvary Disciple” books. This will be used for all levels and the A4 format has about 50 pages. Three volumes are being worked on. Psychology, Sociology and Interpersonal Communication are three more manuals we are working on. For Phase 2 we are preparing Study of Romans which promises to be good and will be printed late in July. The Love Walk has an extra lecture. Two A5 books on the Prophets (Major/Minor) are to be finalised. The Computer Basics book will be revamped. The skill book for “Managing People” is being revamped. More later ...

May God bless your ministry, The CLT Board
